Clinton County Supervisors to Meet Electronically During Building Closure

CLINTON – The Clinton County Board of Supervisors will continue to meet during the closure of County buildings due to the coronavirus (COVID-19) situation.

“The Board will continue to conduct its meetings in the spirit of the Iowa open meetings law so the public will be able to monitor what happens during our meetings,” said Board Chairman Dan Srp.

Monday’s Board meeting will still be open to the public, but will be conducted in the Administration Building cafeteria as opposed to the traditional boardroom. The cafeteria will provide more space to meet social distancing criteria. The cafeteria is also close to the front door of the building to keep the public contained in a short amount of distance.

Monday’s Board meeting will also be available through various electronic devices. The meetings will be provided through WebEx and can be monitored by phone, computer or tablet. After Monday’s Board meeting, all Board of Supervisors meetings will only be available through the WebEx program until further notice.

Those wishing to monitor the meeting by phone should dial 1-408-418-9388 and then enter access code 623839162.

Anyone who would like to monitor the meeting by computer or tablet can follow at this web address:

Meeting Code: 623839162

Participation from the public through WebEx will be limited, but available.

Board agendas and minutes will continue to be published on the Clinton County website at www.clintoncounty-ia.gov.
